Vitamin D and Colorectal Cancer The purpose of this study is to determine if vitamin D reduces the risk of colorectal cancer in people who have a history of the disease. The researchers will also look at the effect vitamin D has on the health of people with the disease to see if vitamin D helps to improve the health of people with colorectal cancer. The researchers are hoping to find the answers to these questions and other questions by taking part in the study. Study Information This study is being conducted to learn about people's vitamin D levels. Vitamin D is a fat-soluble vitamin, which is important for health. A person's vitamin D levels can vary based on many factors, including whether or not they are exposed to sunlight, they are taking medication, or they have a medical condition. This 82157476af
